Electrical Code Prep for Masters Event 2021-4

The HCECA and Harford Community College are offering a series of 12 three-hour Electrical Code for Masters classes to prepare you to take the Master’s exam or just brush up on the National Electrical Code. Course topics include Ohms Law, wire and conduit sizing, over-current protection, motors, transformers, and service calculations. A certificate with 3.6 CEU (Continuing Education Unit) credits will be issued to those who complete the entire session. Class materials included.

NOTE: You need to bring your own 2017 NEC code book with you to class. The state of Maryland is currently testing on 2017 code.

Class size is limited to 30 students, so please enroll early.
